TWO LITTLE GIRLS APPEAL TO HARDING FOR TRAINING CAMP

Iowa Girls Send Personal Letter to President Harding Asking Establishment of Government Training Camps Similar to Those for Boys—Promised Consideration

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—A personal plea to President Harding from "two girl pals" in Iowa for establishment of government training camps for girls where there would be "real training as shooting, drills, and everything, similar to the boys," reached the war department today via the white house in the absence of the president. And it drew a prompt answer from Major General Davis, adjutant general of the army that the "pals" had raised "some most important questions" which "you may rest assured will be carefully studied."

Coming on the eve of the start tomorrow morning of the summer training camp for men which will assemble 30,000 or more young Americans over the country for voluntary military service the plea of the Iowa "pals" struck war department officials with unusual force.

It served to disclose that general staff officers are giving serious thought to plans for supplementing summer work among the boys with similar opportunities for girls. As yet the project has not taken definite shape.

The Girls' Letter

Following is the letter to President Harding:

"Charles City, Iowa, July 14.

"Dear President Harding:

"We are two girl pals and last night at the movies we saw you running a tractor and stacking oats. We thought if you could do that you might read a letter from two American girls.

"We have planned to write to you for a long time but did not have courage enough until we saw you last night.

"There are boys' training camps all over the United States, but we have never heard of a government training camp for girls. Why is it girls can't have one, too? It is sure rotten luck to be a girl but as long as we are, we've got to make the best of it.

"There are schools where girls may study to become nurses but that doesn'e exactly appeal to us. We believe a girl would make as good a soldier as any boy but they have never given us a chance to try.

"Why is it we can't have a chance to do our bit the same as the boys. If ever the chance arose the girls United States army would and could help out. Besides helping the United States it would help us girls. Girls that have no home become 'tuff.' A training camp would be a fine thing for them. Girls can learn to handle arms the same as boys.

"There are girl scout camps around here but girls over 18 are not admitted and, besides, we'd like real training as shooting, drills and everything, similar to the boys.

"From
"Two Pals,
"Alletta Carey,
"Percy Paine.

"Please answer soon."

General Davis Replies

General Davis, in his answer pointed out that under existing law only men were qualified for army officers which the boys' camps are designed to produce. He added that women, however, were even now eligible for rifle club instruction and decorations just as are the men, and pointed out to the "pals" that they could give the government "the best kind of assistance by interesting the young men of the community in the citizezns militay training camps," one of which is about to open at Des Moines.

"Altho it is too late to do much for the camp this year," he added, "it is not too early to enlist recruits for next summer's camp."

General DDavis thanked the "pals" for the "patriotic spirit and enthusiasm" their letter disclosed.

ROYAL WELCOME TO PRESIDENT IN VANCOUVER

Equal to That Given to Prince of Wales

(By The Associated Press)

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 26. (By A. P.)—An American president today for the first time stepped on Canadian soil and spoke to a Canadian audience realizing the significance of the occasion the people of Vancouver gave him—Warren G. Harding—a reception that was most impressive in its enthusiasm.

Vancouver newspapermen declared the greeting given Mr. Harding was at least equal in its warmth to that accorded to the prince of Wales three years ago. Members of the president's party did not hesitate to say that no American city gave the chief executive of the republic during his recent trans-conmental tour a more genuine welcome than was accorded him today in this Canadian city.

The president himself declared that he regarded the reception as "new assurance that the United States and the Dominion of Canada will go along hand in hand and side by side toward fulfillment of the destinies of the two great democracies."

Salute Fired

The naval transport Henderson, bearing the president and his party home from Alaska, steamed into Burrad Inlet this morning and received from the British flight cruiser Curlew a salute of 21 guns.

Tonight after attending a state dinner given by the governments of the dominion and of the province of British Columbia Mr. Harding returned to the Henderson for the overnight voyage to Seattle.

Thruout it all ran the spirit of neighborliness and it was this feeling that the president stressed in the two addresses he made during the day, one at Stanley Park to a gathering estimated by Vancouver newspapers to number 40,000 and the other to the five or six hundred persons who attended a luncheon given in his honor by the city of Vancouver.

President's Remarks

"You are not only our neighbor, but a very good neighbor," he told his audience at Stanley Park, "and we rejoice in your advancement and admire your independence, no less sincerely than we value your friendship. We think the same thoughts, live the same lives and cherish the same aspirations of service to each other in times of need."

"What an object lesson of peace is shown today by our two countries to all the world," he exclaimed at another point in the same address. "No grim-faced fortifications mark our frontiers, no huge battleships patrol our dividing waters, no stealthy spies lurk in our tranquil border hamlets. Only a scrap of paper, recording hardly more than a simple understanding safeguards lives and property on the Great Lakes and only humble mile posts mark the involuble boundary line for thousands of miles thru farm and forest.

"Our protection is our fraternity, our armor is our faith." The president termed talk of the United States scheming to annex Canada an 'ancient bugaboo' long ago banished from the minds of the American people and this assertion was greeted by applause that later was equalled when he advised Canadians to discourage any enterprise looking to Canada's annexation of the United States.

CLAIMS MONEY DIFFICULTIES LED TO CRIME

Former Private Detective Tells Story of His Fall

(By The Associated Press)

OMAHA, Neb., July 26.—Archie E. Page, former private detective at Peoria, Ill., who was arrested and held by Omaha police pending instructions from Peoria, where he is charged with having participated in a bank robbery at Low Point, Ill., last June 4, today signed a lengthy confession, according to police, which declared he was guilty of the charge. Page's confession, which police say was voluntary also told of his employment by Rev. D. E. Cleveland, Omaha, to investigate alleged law violations here.

Page declared in his confession that he was led to the crime because of financial difficulties and that he was hired by Rev. Cleveland soon after he arrived in Omaha after escaping a posse which searched the country near Low Point and Matamora, Ill., for him and his three companions after the robbery. The Omaha clergyman, however, did not know of Page's past connections but secured him from a local detective agency, where the latter had applied for work.

Names Confederates

The former detective stated in his confession that he was aided by three other companions in his Low Point venture. The men named were:

Red Evans, E. A. Ruth and another who was known only by the name of "Toughy." Page declared that Evans had boasted to him that he had "knocked down 30 or 40 safes although he did not say where."

According to Page's statement the four men gained access to the bank thru a rear window and although they were able to get into the main vault they were unable to gain entrance to the safe inside.

Starts to Peoria

"On leaving Low Point," the confession read, "we started towards Peoria, stopping at Metamora where our atempted burglary of a grain elevator was frustrated by a marshal, who fired at us. We also lost our automobile."

Page then, thru the confession, recounted ow he and his companions evaded the posse and how they secured a boat down the river thru Peoria, Pekin and Kingstown Heights from which place they got rides which soon landed them in Omaha.

He declared he did not know the whereabouts of the other three. Page said he would not fight extradition proceedings by Peoria authorities.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IS ASKED BY FERGUS

Claimed it is Necessary to Re-Apportion the State

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26—A special session of the general assembly to re-apportion the state according to the census of 1920, was demanded today in a letter to Governor Small by John B. Fergus, 4778 Magnolia Avenue Chicago.

There has been an increase in population of 1,663730 since the last apportionment, Mr. Fergus said, and he branded the failure of the legislature to re district the state as "a continuing outrage upon the people of Illinois.

"The present voter loses the full effect of his vote while the unrepresented voter fails to obtain the full force and effect of his vote, to which he is entitled," the letter continued.

Sir Henry is completing an inspection of 22,500 miles of the former Grand Trunk System by travel over subsidiary lines within the United States.

"I favor anything that will help to buil dup the country," he said. "The Canada National Railways do not fear competition from the water route."

Sir Henry said that government ownership of railways in Canada was still too much of an experiment to prophecy certain success.

DUNDEE NOW KING OF FEATHERWEIGHTS OUTPOINTS CRIQUI

Wins Decision Over Criqui in Fifteenth After Hard Struggle

(By The Associated Press)

POLO GROUNDS, New York, July 26.—The featherweight championship of the world in French hands for less than two months came back to the United States tonight when Johnny Dundee, grizzled Italian-American veteran battered his way to victory over Eugen Criqui, gallant ex-poilu in a gruelling 15-round struggle that was never in doubt from start to finish.

Dundee won decisively all the way, but only in the face of a game and courageous stand that will go down among the most thrilling in prize ring history. The judges decision crowning Dundee as the new titleholder was drowned in a wild outburst of cheering, but in defeat the Frenchman was accorded an ovation that rang out aove even that for the victor.

Battle Hopeless

Criqui's was a hopeless battle from the first round. Floored for a count of nine hardly before the initial bell had sounded he somewhat managed to weather the storm only to be knocked down twice, once for a count of seven and again for nine seconds in the second round. It seemed that Dundee had a knockout within his grasp but try as furiously as he would the mauling Italian-American could not swing over a finishing blow. Holding the upperhand, while Criqui tried gamely but vainly to stem the tide of battle, Dundee let up in his terrific pace somewhat until the seventh round.

Criqui Keeps Feet

Then he lashed out again with a volley to head and body, but Criqui, tho he was staggering kept his feet. The nde again seemed in sight in the eighth when Criqui, blood dripping from his nose and mouth in a crimson stream, reeled about the ring under a spectacular barrage of blows.

Again in the ninth Dundee failed to bring the Frenchman down so he switched his tactics in the next few rounds trying for a fresh opening. The twelfth saw him unleash another battering drive. He swung as hard as he could with both fists to Criqui's head, but thru a blood smeared face, the Frenchman smiled grimly as he backed to the ropes. He had taken Dundee's hardest and kept his feet and when he went to his corner, the crowd gave the battered champion a thunderous ovation.

Defense Was Good

Criqui's defensive tactics saved him in the thirteenth and fourteenth but in the final round he again was on the verge of going down. Dundee tried savagely to land a knockout blow, while Criqui swung wildly about his head but when the finishing bell rang Criqui, groggy and bloody under a pummelling attack was still doing his best to fight back. Only the heart of a fighter, the instinct of a courageous ringsman, enabled Criqui to stand up under that withering fire. He had held his hatch of ground in the dark days of Verdun and in the squared circle tonight he held his ground to the end. The jaw that stopped a German bullet in the Criqui line trenches proved equal to the hardest shocks human fists could bring to bear upon. He went down to defeat battling to the finish.

Dundee Cool Fighter

Dundee, in achieving the ambition of his long career, fought a cool, masterful battle. He displayed everything but a knockout punch and it was perhaps more the ability of the Frenchman to absorb punishment than Dundee's failure to apply it, that made it possible for the bout to go the limit.

Against Dundee, Criqui was far from the impressive fighting machine he appeared to be when he on the featherweight title on the same battle ground on June 2 from Johnny Kilbane. The best he could do was fight gamely to offset his opponent's big advantage. But while he tried hard his strength, sapped by Dundee's merciless attack was never equal to the test.

Dundee has been seeking the featherweight title for more than 10 yaars.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT FROM GUN PROVES FATAL TO FARMER

Started to Shoot Hawk When He Slipped and Fell

RUMOR OF PLOT TO INJURE PRESIDENT PROVES UNFOUNDED

Reported Directed Towards Attorney Daugherty as Well

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Department of justice agents, it became known here today have made an investigation of a reported plot involving the safety of President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty. William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation said, however, the report had been proved unfounded and the inquiry dropped.

For a time it appeared that a group of persons with anarchistic tendencies, operating in the vicinity of Chicago, were involved, but investigation showed, it was said, there was no basis for such a belief. Reports of plots aimed at various government officials are constantly received by the department of justice and investigation, department officers said, are made as a matter of course. Invariably it was added, such reports are found either to be false is entirety or exaggerated.

SAYS CONDITION OF FARMER AND LABORER IS BAD

Must be Changed if Country is to Avoid Trouble

(By The Associated Press)

AD SAYS.... ....

ST. PAUL, July 26.—Revolution—political, industrial or even a resort to arms—faces the United States "if conditions confronting the laboring man and the farmer are not changed," in the opinion of Magnus Johnson, recently elected senator from Minnesota on the Farmer-Labor ticket.

"Many think the same thing that happened in Russia cannot happen in this country," the senator-elect said today in a statement to the Associated Press, "but don't fool yourself. It could happen here before you knew what was going on.

"The czar had a big army, but he couldn't stop a revolution. We haven't hardly any army at all, so what could our government do if there was a nation-wide revolution? It couldn't do a thing."

Many things need change, the new senator said, when asked if he had a definite plan for altering condition, but "right now he has nothing worked out." It will "all have to be worked out by congress," he said.

Farmer in Need

The farmer is in dire need, he said, "and emergency legislation" is needed to remedy the situation. But clamoring for a special session of congress, "that isn't any use" he said, for President Harding in a letter I saw recently said he would not call a special session under any circumstances.

"The farmer should have cost of production, plus a reasonable profit, definitely guaranteed by the government", Mr. Johnson holds, "because the farmers' products have lost their buying power and when the farmer can't buy the country will soon feel it."

To accomplish the desired result it will be necessary for congress to proceed carefully, but right now temporary or "emergency legislation" is needed to take care of the situation for this year, he added.

Explaining "some of the things that can lead to revolution" the senator-elect said "sixty-five percent of the wealth of the country is in the hands of two percent of the population", and unless "there is a better distribution of this wealth, the common people are going to revolt against it."

This "better distribution of wealth," he said, could be accomplished thru heavier taxation of large and successful corporations, taxing of non-productive incomes, "excess profits, and profiteers," with regulations of their activities so that added tax burden could not be shifted again to the people.

Bonus for Soldiers

Mr. Johnson is "for the bonus for former soldiers," payable out of taxation on excess profits; he wishes to "change the federal reserve system" and curb the power of the United States supreme court to "do away with 5 to 4 decisions and perhaps call for unanimous decisions."

There is another thing Mr. Johnson "wants everybody to understand." Though a friend of the farmer and laboring men, he would "not consent to turning congress over to the exclusive benefit of that class anymore than I want it to be run for the sole benefit of the capitalists. Congress should be run for everybody, and be run on the square."

Mr. Johnson will have several conferences with leaders of the group he will affiliate with in congress—commonly termed the "LaFollette bloc" before he goes to the senate in December.

Tomorrow he will confer with Henrik Shipstead, the other Minnesota senator, also a Farmer-Laborite, who was elected last fall. The meeting will take place at the summer home of Thomas Frankson, former lieutenant governor of Minnesota and one of the republicans who came out in favor of Johnson's candidacy in the recent campaign. A number of speaking dates are being arranged for Mr. Johnson.

CIVILIZATION TO CONTINUE SHOULD BE SPIRITUALIZED

For the First Time Since Illness Woodrow Wilson Makes Public His Views—Are to be Published in Book Form Under the Caption "The Road Away from Revolution"

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, July 26.—Former President Woodrow Wilson, writing under the caption "The Road Away from Revolution," for the August number of the Atlantic Monthly, sounds a note of warning that our civilization cannot survive materially unless it be redeemed spiritually.

This is the first time since his illness that Mr. Wilson has made public his views upon present day problems in the United States and thruout the world. They will be preserved in permanent form between covers.

"In these dreadful and anxious days, when all the world is at unrest and look which way you will the road ahead seems darkened by shadows which portend dangers of many kinds, it is," says the one who commanded the ship of state during the world war, "only common prudence that we should look about us and attempt to assess the causes of distress and the most likely means or removing them."

Then avoiding the partisan as he analyzed the existing state of American civilization, the writer goes briefly to the root of the matter by making essentially what is a religious appeal for a better understanding between the "haves and havenots."

Source of Unrest.

"Real ground for the universal unrest," he asserts, "lies deep at the sources of the spiritual life o four time and leads to revolution."

The cause of the Russian revolution, which he calls the outstanding event of its kind in our age, was in his view, a "systematic denial to the great body of Russians of the rights and privileges which all normal men desire and must have if they are to be contented and within reach of happiness."

What has this to do with America? "It was against capitalism," he declares, "that the Russian leaders directed their attack and it is against capitalism under one name or another that the discontented classes everywhere draw their indictment."

Everywhere, he says, there are thoughtful men who believe that capitalism is indispensible to civilization, but he goes on to ask: "Is the capitalistic system unimpeachable?"

Instruments of Profit.

"Is it not true," the inquiry contiues, "that capitalists have often seemed to regard the men whom they used as mere instruments of profit, whose physical and mental powers it was legitimate to exploit? Ought we not to seek a way to remove such offenses and make life itself clean for those who will share honorably and cleanly in it.

"The world has been made safe for Democracy. There need now be no fear that any such mad design as that entertained by the insolent and ignorant Hohenzollerns and their counselors may prevail against it. But democracy has not made the world safe against irrational revolution. That supreme task which is nothing less than the salvation of civilization, now faces democracy insistent, imperative. There is no escaping it unless everything we have built up, is presently to fall in ruin about us; and the United States as the greatest of democracies must undertake it.

Road Clearly Marked.

"The road that leads away from revolution is clearly marked, for it is defined by the nature of men and of organized society.

"It therefore behooves us to study very carefully and very candidly the exact nature of the task and the means of its accomplishment. The sum of the whole matter is this; that our civilization cannot survive materially unless it be redeemed spiritually. Here is the final challenge to our churches, to our political organizations to our capitalists—to every one who fears God or loves his country."

MORE BUTTER ON BREAD IS NEW REMEDY

Dairymen Want it Added to Eat More Wheat Slogan

(By The Associated Press)

WATERLOO, Iowa, July 26.—If every dairyman and the consumers of his product would eat and extra slice of bread the price of wheat, now depressed soon would be where the farmers desire it., T. A. Borman, a Chicago dairy products manufacturer, today told the National Dairy Council in semi-annual conference here. Mr. Borman also suggested that "the extra slices be extra well buttered."

The dairy industry said the speaker, was the support of thousands of farmers who might otherwise find their lands unproductive of a living.

"The cow," he declared, "paid more taxes, paid off more mortgages and educated more children than has the revenue from any other farm crop."

No Over-Production

Mr. Borman cited the immense increase in consumption of dairy products declaring there was no possibility of overproduction. All that was necessary to the prosperity of the industry, he said was that farmers maintain a high standard of purity, following closely the program laid down by the dairy council.

He praised the work of the council, which he said was educating the American public to the real value of health and the use of the most nourishing foods.

The organization, he declared, had averted a calamity in the post-war years, by stabilizing the dairy products market and making it possible for many American Farmers to maintain themselves with their herds while prices for their chief crops were at the lowest level in years.

The dairy industry was picturied in the same role by M. D. Munn of Washington, president of the organization, who said he feared that unless market conditions were greatly improved within the next two years, the nation's food supply might be seriously curtailed. A great many agriculturists could sustain themselves with herds but the dairy busines could not be expected to carry the entire bur-

The council, now organized in eight districts in the east and in California has developed into an educational body, closely linked to all health improvement groups President Munn said its purpose was as much to give humanity the benefits that follow the use of proper foods as to look after the material welfare of the dairy

SENATORS SEEING EUROPE

It is said that more than one-fourth of the United States Senators have gone abroad this summer.

Having so large a number of members of the senate go to see for themselves the state of European countries at the present time will help to a great extent clear up the general confusion. Each one will see with the eyes and mind he takes with him, and not with those of the people he visits. Nevertheless, if each one has something to contribute, the total experience acquired must be valuable. Adding to this the knowledge of facts and consciousness of atmosphere acquired by the many ordinary citizens who have spent some time in Europe during the present year, American public opinion in regard to European matters cannot but take a turn towards greater intelligence.

STUDY AND TRAVEL

The University of California has been looking into the matter of teachers' vacation pay and finds that 300 communities now grant their teachers either an increase of salary or a bonus for summer study or travel.

In 153 cities the summer study allowance takes the form of a permanent increase in pay. The allowances vary greatly from less than $25 in some places to more than $200 a year in others. In the majority of cases the allowance is from $50 to $75. In six cases the increase is given before attendance at summer school.

The allowance or bonus for travel is just as interesting and valuable. It is small in most instances, but is nevertheless a help and an incentive to the teacher.

Communities making such allowances are foresighted and wise in their recognition of the an investment which will benefit the whole community as much as fact that the expenditure is really it does individual teachers.

BECK ON THE CONSTITUTION

The second address of United States Solicitor General J. M. Beck, delivered at Gray's Inn Hall, London, England, recently contained some interesting material on the supreme court, from which the following is selected:

Washington had the duty of nominating the five justices who at first composed the court, and he determined that in his selection he would appoint none who could not claim qualities as a great lawyer but also as a great statesman. A principle which the court adopted was that no law should be declared invalid unless its incompatibility with the constitution was clear beyond a reasonable doubt. All doubts were to be resolved in favor of the legislative act. If it admitted of two constructions—the one compatible with the Constitution and the other inconsistent—the construction favorable to its constitutionality was to be accepted. The judiciary thus sought to support the legislative will. In a democracy no other attitude would be possible.

The supreme court in those days comprised the ablest minds of that generation—they debated with meticulous care the great principles of government in the light of which the written constitution should be applied. It was possibly the greatest form of intellectual debate of which civilization had any knowledge. There had been great courts before, but none had had this peculiar and extraordinary function of determining in like measure the very form of the government whose laws it was interpreting. It was in truth a supersenate. The principles of government were to be developed, not in the heated atmosphere and selfish conflicts of political strife, but in the serene air of a court of justice, after full debate by the greatest lawyers of the time, and by judges who acted not as partisans, but as the sworn interpreters of constitutional liberty.

Solicitor-General Beck is performing a distinct service both to the British and the American people in setting forth the principles which guide the United States supreme court. Those principles are as dominant today as they were in Washington's time. There are certain publicists in this country who are attacking representative government. There is another class of radicals who are seeking to subvert the Supreme court. The former would like to see the government in the hands of an autocracy; the latter would substitute a pure democracy of which anarchy is the offspring. Mr. Beck might well extend his lectures to include the United States.

C. P. & ST. L. REPORT MADE TO C. OF C.

Directors at Thursday Night Conference Heard Suggestions of John J. Reeve — Road to be Sold September 26th.

A report of the C. P. & St. L. committee was made to the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at a meeting held last night. This committee of which A. R. Eyre was chairman, was appointed a number of months ago and John J. Reeve representing the committee has made an extensive study of the question.

Mr. Reeve attended the various hearings held in Springfield in addition being present at committee meetings in Peoria and other cities.

A formal report was made by Mr. Reeve, in which he gave some details of the investigation and expresed the view that the particular interest of Jacksonville in the matter relates to the operation of the shop. If any plan could be worked out whereby the shops can be again put in operation it will be greatly to the benefit of Jacksonville.

It was the decision of the directors after listening to the report and Mr. Reeve's interesting presentation of the question, that nothing can be done, at least until after the sale of the railroad is held September 26, in accordance with the court order.

At this meeting John W. Merrigan, vice-president of the board presided and reports were made by Secretary Welch relating to the new organization of the commercial division, and some interesting facts about the county fair were presented.

The principal paragraphs of Mr. Reeve's report and conclusions are quoted below:

Offered in Parts.

"The decree for the foreclosure of the mortgage was entered on the 21st of June. By that decree the Court has ordered the Road sold in three different ways:

First, to be sold as a whole, as a going concern.

Second, to be offered in three parts, as follows: One part from Jacksonville to Havana; one part from Springfield to Pekin; one part from Springfield to East St. Louis.

Third. Then it is offered in 18 different parts: One part, including the Terminals at Pekin; two, from the beginning of the Terminals at Pekin to the little town of Manito, a few miles south of Pekin; three from Manito to Havana; four, from Havana to 400 feet north of Independence Avenue, in Jacksonville, which carries with it all the car shops; five that part of the road in Jacksonville beginning at a point 400 feet north of Independence Avenue and running south to a point 290 feet south of East State Street, which means selling to the Burlington the Terminals in Jacksonville which it now uses; six, from Havana to Petersburg; seven, from Petersburg to Springfield; eight, from Springfield to Curran; 8-A, from Curran to Waverly; nine from Waverly to Hagaman; ten, from Hagaman to Lock Haven; eleven from Lock Haven to East St. Louis.

The above is the cut-up of the track. The rolling stock is sold in seven different lots, dividing the freight equipment, certain engine equipment, passenger equipment, etc., together with some small tracts of land.

Minimum Prices.

"The minjmum price at which these various divisions are to be sold—I have not the exact figures of all of them; but the terminals in Jacksonville are fixed at $75,000.00. The minimum on that part of the road beginning 400 feet north of Independence Avenue to Havana, being 41 miles and a fraction, includes the Car Shops and the ground upon which the Shops stand, is fixed at $200,000.00.

"Unless the persons interested along the line of this Road are willing to fall into a scheme to hold the Road together, I am of the opinion that it will be sold in the smallest "piece-meal." In other words the Terminals will be sold and the balance of the property junked.

"I ascertained from the attorney for the first mortgage bondholders that if the people in Jacksonville wanted to buy the Car Shops and the 41 miles from here to Havana, that it could be had for $200,000.00—with the Terminals out—and that they would furnish at least half of the money with which to buy it.

"The only question that occurs to me in that division is this: Whether or not the people along the line of this Road from here to Havana would be sufficiently interested to raise the money to buy this Road with the further thought in view that if such purchase were made the Shops could be rehabilitated as a repair shop, taking in work from any source where they might get it and thereby put to work in Jacksonville 200 or 300 men.

Repair Shops Profitable.

"From my inquiry and investigation, I think there is no doubt that a repair shop for railway equipment is a very profitable matter, as no railroad has ever been able to keep in repair all of its equipment, and must hire a good portion of that done on the outside.

"These shops are situated in such proximity to the Wabash, the C. & A. and the Burlington that there ought not to be much trouble in getting all of the work along that line, which would be necessary to keep almost an unlimited number of men employed.

"The freight on the Road originating along the line from here to Havana, by economic operation, ought to be sufficient to really make that piece of Road a paying proposition when operated as a freight road. These, of course, are simply suggestions; whether worthy of consideration or not is a matter for the Committee to determine.

"The greatest interest that Jacksonville has in this whole project, as I see it, is to get the Car Shops open so as to give the mechanics who have formerly worked in the Shops an opportunity to work and to retain them as citizens of Jacksonville.

"A great deal of the country from here to Havana would be substantially ruined if the C. P. & St. L. Road is abandoned, and I think along that line of Road it is up to the persons who would be damaged to do their full share in trying to save the Road from abandonment. If they do not see fit to do it, that is a privilege which they have.

"It has been suggested in the Committee that the C. P. & St. L. Railroad could probably be bought as a going concern, including equipment and everything, free of all indebtedness, for approximately three millions of dollars. It is probable that the holders of the first mortgage securities would loan two millions of dollars, and that there would have to be raised a million dollars to pay off the preferred liens and expenses aside from the first mortgage bonds.

"It has also been suggested that there ought to be at least 5,000 men out of the 300,000 along the line of this road who would be willing to loan to a new organization on an average of from $100 to $200 dollars with which to save and rehabilitate this Road. At the little town of Manito they have already pledged $25,000 for such a purpose. There was one man in Jacksonville who told me he would loan $1,000 for such a purpose.

"The time will probably speedily be here when Jacksonville and the persons interested between here and Havana will have the matter put up to them as to what they are willing to do to save the Road. If the people who ought to be interested in this matter will show their interest in some of the ways above suggested there is no doubt in my mind that the Road can be preserved as a going concern. However, if the people who ought to be interested have no such interest, then, in my judgment, the Terminals of the Road will be sold and the balance of it junked."

I have spent a great deal more time in this matter than I had ever contemplated; but, becoming interested in the matter, I have hoped to be of service in working the matter out, or at least be able to place before the committee a definite plan for their approval and submission to the interested parties, or else to be able to say there was no hope. I believe there is hope; but whatever is done will have to be done by about the 1st of September, as it is contemplated that the sale of the road will take place about the 15th of September.

WOODEN INDIAN HAS CHECKERED HISTORY

Minnie-Ha-Ha Gets New Coat of Paint and Returns to Her Place in Front of Cassells'—Was Brought to City Shortly after Civil War.

Minnie-Ha-Ha, the wooden Indian girl who for the past 41 years has stood guard in front of the Cassell cigar store, is now back in her accustomed place after a trip to the paint shop in which she received a new bloom her cheeks, a new light to her handsome brown eyes, and a handsome new dress of bright colors.

Minnie-Ha-Ha made her first appearance on the earth 55 years ago, shortly after the Civil war. She was brought to town some 40 odd years ago and placed before the Tivola tobacco shop which stood on the west side of the square. Forty one years ago she was bought by the Cassells, her price was $180.00. She is of solid wood and hand carved. Today her value is enhanced by being a curiosity for the day of the cigar store indian is past and there are none in the city, and a very very few in the whole country.

Three or four times college boys, attracted by her brunette beauty, have wanted her to go on a lark with them. But as the demure Indian maiden did not with to go with the young hoydens she was abducted and carried away by them. Each time Mr. Cassell, her admiring owner, ransomed her and brought her nome.

Siebert Surprised How Quick Trouble Ended

"It surely is remarkable how quickly Tanlac fixed me up," declared Herman Siebert, well known auto mechanic, living at 125 Hennepin St., LaSalle, Ill.

"For about a year I had stomach trouble so bad I could scarcely eat anything and was losing weight and strength all the time. I ate only light food, but I could not digest it and always felt like there was a lump like lead right in the pit of my stomach. I was so nervous I could scarcely sleep any and felt so tired and worn out I could hardly drag myself off to work.

"Well, Tanlac certainly has fixed me up fine. I have gained eight pounds in weight, have an appetite like a horse and can digest anything and sleep well, too. In fact, I never felt better in my life than I do now. I am glad to recommend Tanlac for it has made life and work a pleasure to me."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

DUNDEE NOW KING OF FEATHERWEIGHTS OUTPOINTS CRIQUI

Dundee fought a 20-round draw with the champion, his repeated challenges failed to bring Kilbane into the ring with him again and last year, the New York state athletic commission ruled Kilbane was automatically dethroned for not accepting the Italian's defy. Dundee was elevated to the title, so far as this state was concerned after knocking out Danny Frush. When Kilbane signed to box Criqui here, his title was restored to him with the understanding that winner of the bout would give Dundee his long sought chance at the title.

Dundee also was recognized as junior lightweiht or 130 pound champion until he lost it by decision to Jack Bernstein recently. Dundee, 30 years old, has always been somewhat of a prize ring freak, for the reason that he could make weight from the welterweight down to the featherweight class. He has fought over 300 fights in a career of 13 years.

The Gate Receipts

The paid attendance was announced as 32,420 and the total receipts as $134,416.

Round One—They met in the center of the ring and started infighting Criqui landing right to body. Dundee landed a first real blow, a long left to the head. They kept exchanging body blows in clinches but neither was doing much damage. Criquit landed two hard lefts to the head. Dundee sent a solid left hook to the jaw and Criqui countered with the same hand to the body. The Frenchman hooked a nifty right to the jaw that hurt. Dundee sent Criqui to the floor with a hard right to the jaw and the Frenchman remained on one knee while the referee counted nine. Dundee got in a relentless attack when Criqui gained his feet. Dundee was cracking away when the bell stopped him.

Round Two—Criqui came out unsteady and fell into a clinch. He hooked a left to Dundee and the challenger leaned back and swung hard lefts to the head in the wildest of uproar, hooking hard lefts to head but the Frenchman stood his ground and sent back two lefts. Dundee sent Criqui to the floor for a count of seven. The Frenchman came up and Dundee met his man but Dundee spilled him with another and Criqui took the count of nine. Dundee laid back for a knockout, punishing Criqui severely. Altho he was wavering Criqui fought back taking left after left and clinching when his blows failed to land. They were sparring in the center of the ring when the round ended.

Round Three—Criqui looked good as he sat in his corner listening to the counsel of his handlers Dundee punched his body in the first attack then landed a left. Dundee repeated with his left and forced his right in solidly. Criqui came in for more punching wildly with his left but always advancing. Dundee was much too fast for the Frenchmna easily evading his futile attempts and punching accurately with both hands. Dundee fell back to his old trick of bouncing off the ropes but it netted him nothing except laughs from the crowd. Dundee repeated his trick twice, this time to good advantage sending a repeating left into the Frenchman's ribs as the bell rang.

Round Four—Criqui started the attack but he was either short or over and a series of clinches resulted. Dundee was a little slower and they sparred but when he chose to whip his left it came out savagely. The challenger dodged a half dozen leads, and aside from an occasional left jab he kept on the defensive. Then Dundee started bouncing off the ropes and dancing across the ring. Criqui struck at the flying target but it was no use. They were in a slight clinch when the bell rang.

Round Five—Criqui spat up blood while his handlers worked feverishly. Dundee wasn't even fanned. Johnny landed here a dozen lefts and they fell into a wrestling clinch.

Criqui landed a wide right but was wide too with his next sally. Dundee pounded the champion's kidneys, and they clinched. Criqui hooked his left to Johnny' head. The pace had slowed but still Criqui could not solve his opponent. He was warned for hitting on the breakaway. Dundee began chopping uppercuts when the gong sounded.

Round Six—They came together fighting, Criqui taking the lead. Dundee battled toe to toe, and his left had the better of it. Dundee was puzzld by Criqui's maneuvering but occasionally he slipped over that pop-gun left. They exchanged punches, but there was not much to choose from. Criqui was getting the better of infighting. They were sparring at the gong.

Round Seven—Dundee came out furiously landing his left so rapidly it was impossible to count. The crowd booed the Frenchman for hitting low in a clinch. Dundee kept whipping over his left like a pile driver. Dundee made several slashing attacks with his left but Criqui only kept crowding him. They were in a clinch at the bell.

Round Eight—Dundee landed a left and right and Criqui hooked a right to the jaw. Dundee whipping his left to the head as his feet left the floor. Criqui sent rights to the body in a clinch Dundee hooked both fists into the stomach, but still Criqui kept coming in. Dundee began to lay back. He hit Criqui with a right to the ribs and then staggered him with blows with both hands. Criqui was very groggy, blood spouted from his mouth and splattered both fighters. Dundee pounded him severely with both hands but the challenger began to slow down at the bell.

Round Nine—Criqui was in pretty bad condition as he sat in his corner, but Dundee appeared fresh. They fought in the center, then Dundee stepped back and began pummeling with his long left. With marvelous grit Criqui continued stepping in, tho his legs were so wobbly he could hardly stand. The Frenchman vainly shot out his left but he was very tired. Dundee's left tapped him a half dozen times and he clinched. Dundee now came in with both fists tearing away, but still Criqui walked in, striking wildly, and ineffectively covering up. The fought toe to toe in a slashing body exchange and Dundee, as he walked to his stool was plainly perplexed.

Round Ten—Criqui shot a left to the face and in return for a left to the stomach. Criqui was leading with his left but it was invariably wide and he fell into Dundee's arms. Dundee pounded his adversary's head with both hands when in a neutral corner. The crowd cheered Criqui as he resumed his undaunted advance, but his blows were woefully feeble. He nearly fell over the challenger when he swung a hard right and Dundee swayed back to measure him, but they clinched. Dundee fell back from the advance, shooting his left up and over as Criqui gamely came into the slaughter. Dundee was at it as the bell ended the round.

Round Eleven—Criqui was wide with a left but he hooked a short left to the head and jabbed with it three times. Dundee who was less affected now, went grimly to his work, retreating ow and hammering again. He landed both hands to the jaw in a clinch. Dundee was falling against the ropes and bouncing out when Criqui stood by with glassy eyes. All he could do was to wave his hands at his scooting opponent. Criqui missed a wide uppercut after Dundee was short with lefts. Dundee had slowed down and they sparred quietly when the bell rang.

Round Twelve—Criqui tried to smile with his shattered jaw. Criqui still was leading but Dundee was getting in the blows, hefty lefts. Dundee rocked the champion with two fisted attack that seemed would batter down a post but Criqui wobbling on his feet stood his ground. Criqui weathered that storm and lowered his head for another advance. The action slowed for a minute, then Dundee plied both hands again hitting Criqui in every vulnerable spot but the Frenchman smiled decisively and tried to put over an uppercut. The crowd was on its feet in a tempestuous roar as Criqui gave another derisive smile going to his corner at the bell.

Round Thirteen—They clinched. Dundee began his attack earnestly but Criqui fought back and Dundee clinched. Criqui backed Dundee into a neutral corner, but had difficulty keeping his blows high. Dundee staggered him with a right cross, but Criqui advanced again, heaving a great sigh. The Frenchman ducked a wide left and was wild with two more. Dundee planted his feet and ploughed with his left, but he kept waiting and Criqui was leading another advance when the gong ended the round.

Round Fourteen—They sparred a minute, a full minute. They fought at long range and danced about before Dundee whipped over two lefts that forced a clinch. Criqui caught Dundee flush as he bounded from the ropes, but Criqui couldn't break an egg now. He didn't refrain from the attack, however, and was mixing with his adversary when the bell ended the slowest round of the fight.

Round Fifteen—Criqui nodded his head negatively to a friend at the ringside, showing he knew it was hopeless. Dundee came from his corner very determined, but they clinched three times. Criqui was trying as hard for a knockout as was Dundee. The challenger started a two fisted attack to the head and body and Criqui sighed again before he clinched. They sparred a minute exchanged at arms length and then clinched before Dundee began his next foray. He swung both hands to the head with all he had and Criqui couldn't hold, his gloves again his face but he had strength enough in his legs to walk in again. Dundee thumped the Frenchman's body and Criqui danced away. Dundee pounded his head unmercifully with both hands, and was whaling away when the bell rang.

Criqui walked away refusing Dundee's hand.

industry, he added. The body had been dedicated to health work to such an extent, he pointed out that budgets for the advertisment of dairy products had been almost wholly converted in some sections to placing these products at the disposal of public school officials and placing workers in the field to aid teachers in health instruction.

W. A. Wentworth, secretary of the Ohio Dairy Products association drew a parallel with the present market prices of hogs and wheat and milk and butter. The consumption of dairy foods, he said, had increased at a greater rate than any other farm crop, with the prospect that production will still be greatly enlarged while over-supply of the other crops, he pointed out had depressed prices.

Other speakers included Dr. T. A. Clark, of the state dairy and food department and C. Bechtelheimer, secretary of the Iowa dairy council who endorsed the work of the national council

Outlook for Industry

Mr. Bechtelheimer said the outlook for the dairy industry in this state as in others, was much brighter than for any other branch of agriculture. Sixty percent of the Iowa creameries, he said, are now supporting the work of the council and nearly all will be brought into line soon, he believed.

M. O. Maughan of Chicago, national secretary, assured the Iowa dairymen, that the council was endeavoring to broaden the market for western (butter fat as well as for eastern produced milk. An illustration of the effectiveness of the council's campaign in Philadelphia was offered by P. W. Balderson, secretary of the Interstate Dairy Council.

No Undernourishment

The undernourished child had virtually been eliminated as a problem confronting Philadelphia school authorities, owing to the educational campaign and dairy products made available to the schools in tht city, he said. The increase in milk consumption in Philadelphia since the campaign opened he estimated had been 25 percent.

Profesor Mortensen of Iowa State College spoke briefly on the Iowa dairy industry. Production in this state, he said, probably would slow up during the next few years, as farmers developed better herds and sought higher quality rather than great quantities.

Waterloo school children tonight gave a playlet entitled "Making the World Fit," as a demonstration of the council's education work.

Additional evidence was heard here today and it was agreed to present oral arguments at Chicago next Tuesday.

There were 38 present, including relatives from this city, White Hall, Roodhouse and Mrs. George Kimball of California.

At noon a bountiful dinner was served and the day spent very pleasantly socially. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Smith were formerly the Misses Ollie and Edith Biggs, sisters of Justin A. and Lewis E. Biggs of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and family and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and family left yesterday evening for Litchfield where they will visit before returning to their respective homes.

FUNERALS

Conover.

Brief funeral services for Oscar Conover were held at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the Old People's Home. Mrs. Carl E. Robinson sang a solo. The services were conducted by Rev. M. L. Pontius, assisted by A. C. Rice and George Harney, elders of the Central Christian church.

Funeral services for Miss Minnie Ellen Fredlander will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the family residence on the Sandusky road, in charge of Rev. W. H. Marbach. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Malone

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Charlotte Malone of St. Louis, a former resident of Jacksonville, were held at the Reynolds Chapel Wednesday afternoon. The services were in charge of Rev. A. P Howells, pastor of First Baptist church, and were attended by a large number of friends of the deceased.

Miss Nelle Self sang as a solo, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," with Miss Myrtle Larimore at the organ.

The minister spoke in a brief but impressive way, referring to the unselfish way in which the deceased had lived and of the good influence which such a life exerts upon the community in which it is lived.

Burial was made in Diamond Grove cemetery, brief services being held at the grave side. The pall bearers were A. R. Taylor, Henry Capps, Joseph F. Shreve, Frank Leach, E. E. Sovern and Harry B. Lavery.

Among those from a distance who attended the services were Dr. and Mrs. J. Y. Malone of St. Louis and Mrs. Cora Greeley of Arenzville, a niece of the deceased.

Shepherd

The funeral service in memory of Mrs. Nettie Shepherd was held from the Lynnville Methodist church Thursday afternoon. There was a very large attendance as Mrs. Shepherd, who has spent all of her life in this community, was widely respected.

Altho this is a very busy time in the farm homes of Lynnville precinct operations stopped on many of these farms, so that neighbors and friends of Mrs. Shepherd could attend the services.

Rev. G. T. Wetzel pastor of the church was in charge and took the Scripture lesson from the 7th Chapter of Revelations. The theme of the helpful and ernest discourse as "The Mystery of Life," based on 1st Corinthians, 13:12.

The minister made a number of personal references to Mrs. Shepherd, who was born in Lynnville, November 5, 1866, a daughter of Alfred and Susan Meredith Shirtcliff.

She grew to womanhood and spent all of her life in the Lynnville community. When a young woman she became a member of the Lynnville Methodist church and was faithful in her devotion to all the branches of the church work. As a member of the Aid society she as especially zealous and every task assigned her was willingly performed. Mrs. Shepherd was for a time superintendent of the Sunday school and later for a period of years was teacher of a boy's class in the school.

Mrs. Shepherd had not been in good health for the past year and for four months had been seriously ill and met suffering with great fortitude. Death came to her at Passavant hospital July 24 at 9 P. M. The deceased will be greatly missed in the home and in Lynnville community.

Mrs. Shepherd is survived by one son, Foster Shepherd and two brothers, Lorenzo Shirtcliff at home and Glenn Shirtcliff of Edmonton, Canada.

As a part of the services music was supplied by a quartet including Fred Scholfield, Frank M. Masters, Yates Potter and Oliver Reed with Mrs. Fred Scholfield at the piano.

There were many beautiful flowers cared for by the Misses Blanche Hills, Grace Fearneyhough, Frances Scholfield and Fern Potter. At Diamond Grove cemetery the services were conducted by Wilber chapter No. 358, Order of the Eastern Star. The bearers were, members of Mrs. Shepherd's Sunday school class: Albert Potter, Yates Potter, Simon Blackburn, Earl Sturdy, Keith Scholfield and Clyde Sturdy.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

European Corn Borer—The State Entomologist expects the European Corn Borer to invade this country in a few years and is now experimenting with parasites that feed on the borer. These parasites will be used as parasites on the borer in smart weeds so they will be here in numbers when the borer begins to come.

Downs in Poultry Raising—Several of the poultry raisers keeping records for the Farm Bureau report losses thru roup, white diarrhea and cats. The cats usefulness on the farm is not as great as popularly supposed. Many farmers are getting rid of the cats because they seem to prefer birds and farm poultry to rats and mice.

Black Hull Wheat—This variety is yielding well. A few complain of the presence of striking smut. This can be easily controlled thru seed treatment.

Rape Seed in Wheat— F. E. Drury seeds rape on wheat fields in the spring. After harvest the green forage makes fine forage for hogs and sheep.

Volunteer Soybeans in Wheat—The presence of the soybeans in wheat fields means a legume on the land without much labor or expense. However drilling wheat in soybean stubble without plowing the land is not giving yields that will encourage the practice.

CHEESE CORPORATION HEAD SPOKE IN CITY

Kiwanians Hear J. L. Kraft Explain Secret of Company's Success—Other Speakers Present S. S. L. Extends Thanks.

"If you would get, you must give," said J. L. Kraft of Chicago president of the J. L. Kraft Brothers Co. in a speech before the Kiwanis club here yesterday.

Mr. Kraft heads one of the greatest cheese manufacturing and distributing corporations in the world. A branch factory is located in Montreal, a sales agency in London, a branch in Shanghai, and a branch factory in San Francisco, and the company is now contemplating the establishment of a factory in New eZaland.

Mr. Kraft attributes the succuss of the corporation to the infusion into its every activity of the personality of its promoters and employes. He stated that every salesman of the firm is given a free life insurance policy for $5,000, every factory worker has one for $1500, while all office clerks and other employes have policies ranging from $500 up. The corporation employs in all departments about 3,000 persons.

The per capita consumption of cheese in the United States has increased from 2½ pounds ten years ago to four pounds at the present time, it is the goal of the cheese makers to increase the consumption of their product to ten pounds per capita.

Mr. Kraft brought with him a five pound box of American cream cheese, and presented it to the club. It was given as a reward to the person in the audience who could come the nearest guessing the number of boxes of cheese of that size that the Kraft factories put out each day. Guesses ranged all the way from a few hundred to one hundred thousand boxes. The prize was won by Miss Charlotte Sieber whose guess was 47,800. The number of boxes put out from the factories daily is 47,000.

A letter was read from the Social Service League, thanking the club for its entertainment of the under-privileged boys at Meredosia. Extracts from the letter read as follows:

"We wish to extend to the club our heartiest appreciation for the interest they took in our boys, who were so royally entertained at Meredosia. We do appreciate the things they have done and the things they are planning to do for the boys. It will mean more than anyone knows in the lives of these youngsters."

Another speaker at the meeting yesterday was Major Myron W. Snell Surgeon in charge of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Major Snell told of his work and of general conditions among disabled men who served in the world war.

Dr. F. A. Norris who returned yesterday from an extended trip thru the west, told the club something of what took place at the convention of the American Medical Society, which he attended at San Francisco. Perry C. Primis, who recently returned from a trip thru Europe, in which he visited Germany, France Austria and Greece, was also a speaker at yesterday's meeting.

Other guests at the meeting included: John Robinson of Chicago, Charles C. Capps, W. H. Self, E. A. Sorrel of Peoria, Dr. J. W. Hairgrove, W. C. Bradish, and Miss Charlotte Sieber of Chicago.

MISS VIRGINIA REED A TALENTED PIANIST

Granddaughter of Early Resident of Jacksonville Achieves Success in Concert Program at Highland Park

A Highland Park paper of recent date makes reference to the splendid success achieved by Miss Virginia Reed in a concert program. Miss Reed is a granddaughter of Preston Ayers, an earlier and long time resident of Jacksonville. Paragraphs from the paper are quoted:

Appearing as the soloist on the "Discovery Concert" program at Grauman's Million Dollar theater last Sunday, Miss Virginia Reed of 5930 Echo street, Highland Park's talented concert pianist, achieved an artistic triumph most gratifying to her friends.

On a program with Conrad Nagel and a number of celebrities whose names are household words to the majority of the public, Miss Reed accomplished the difficult task of putting her art and personality across in a manner that made the number an outstanding feature of the program. She delighted with the Rubenstein Staccato Etude, which she rendered with an interpretation and finish that won the warm applause of the audience and the congratulations of musical critics.

Miss Reed is wholly a Highland Park celebrity, having grown up here and completed her education in the local schools. She has gained her musical education under the best instructors of the West and has recently been studying under Dr. Alexis Kall, the celebrated Russian pianist.

Radio fans will have an opportunity to hear Miss Reed this week when she will appear on the Examiner radio program in company with Miss Gildia Marchetti, vocalist.

PRES. McKINLEY'S DEATH IS RECALLED

In talking of affairs of other years a number of men assembled at R. T. Cassell's cigar store last night tried to recall the date of President McKinley's death. There were various opinions about the date and the discussion was settled when Joseph Coverly produced a copy of the Jacksonville Daily Journal, dated Saturday morning, September 14, 1901.

The Journal that morning carried inverted column rules to indicate that the nation was mourning its deceased chief The telegraph story from Buffalo where the president died gave as the last conscious words of the martyred president: "Good bye all, good bye. It is God's will. His will be done."

The copy of the paper is now in the possession of Ben T. Scott.

MOODY AND DEPUTIES RAID FARM IN CASS

Find No Stills on Second Raid, but Odors Tell Tales of Booze Not Long Gone—Keep Up Search Till After Midnight

U. S. Deputy Marshal W. L. Moody of Springfield, Special Officer Daniels of this city and Deputies Howard Burch, Burley Jones, Edgar Jones and Henry Strawn made another raid into Cass county yesterday in search of wet goods and stills. The raiding party went to the Holtzman farm north of Literberry, about three hundred yards across the Cass county line. The authorities arrested Ruby Lair, whom they located on the farm after considerable hunt. Lair is believed to have been implicated in the manufacture and sale of liquor in the vicinity, and although no still or liquor was found, there were indications that the making of booze had been in progress on the farm.

A number of articles, such as auto accessories, etc., were found in Lair's possession, and the officers believe that he stole them from somewhere. He declared he bought the articles, but could give no information as to where or how. He was brought here and lodged in the county jail.

The officers searched the Holtzman farm thoroughly, having a federal warrant sworn out by State's Attorney Robinson. They found no still and no liquor, but one building on the premises contained a number of empty bottles and other suspicious looking articles. The odor of the place indicated that a quantity of sour mash had been stored there at some time not many days past.

At last reports near midnight, Morgan county authorities were still searching for contraband liquor and the means of its manufacture across the Cass line. They had received news of what was believed to be the location of the still for which they had been searching thruout the day.

Later

The raiding party returned at 1 o'clock this morning, and after a strenuous search all day and fully one half of the night, they finally collected a complete still outfit on the farm, gathering parts from cornfields, pastures, and different places. It appears that Lair had received a tip some time ago and had discontinued the manufacture presumably until the storm had blown over. He was brought in to Jacksonville shortly after dinner Thursday and was questioned almost continually until 9 o'clock last night before he confessed as to where the different parts were hidden.

Lair has been under suspicion for a long time, operating for a long time, according to reports in the vicinity of Meredosia, but has always been too slippery to be caught with the goods.

DR. ARTHUR PRINCE IN WRECK YESTERDAY

Springfield Man Collided With Colored People on Hard Road —Four Injured in Crash.

Yesterday afternoon about 5:30 a collision occurred 3 miles west of New Berlin on the hard road between a carload of Springfield negroes and a car driven by Dr. Arthur Prince of Springfield, who was accompanied by a nurse. In the crash the nurse received a deep gash in her chin, a large negress received a broken knee cap and had a piece of her thumb cut away, one colored man's ankle was sprained, and another colored woman was slightly hurt. The two automobiles were badly damaged, being nearly knocked to pieces.

The Springfield party was headed west, presumably to attend a colored picnic at Alexander. Dr. Prince was headed east. Two hay racks were sitting beside the road, and according to witnesses the colored driver seeking to avoid hitting them turned out and struck Dr. Prince's car.

Dr. J. C. McMillan, of New Berlin, atended the wounded. A passing autoist took the nurse to Springfield and a car, ordered from there came out to take the colored party back.

PARDON IS SOUGHT FOR HOWARD BERRY

Morgan County Youth Reported to be Dying in Pontiac Reformatory—Crime was Serious and Pardon Should be Granted only in Extreme Case.

It is reported here that efforts are being made to secure a pardon for Howard Berry, a local colored youth who is serving time in Pontiac Reformatory for highway robbery. It is stated that Berry is near death with tuberculosis and can live only a short time.

State's Attorney Robinson received an inquiry yesterday from the state board of pardons asking information on the case. Mr. Robinson answered that the crime for which Berry was convicted and sentenced was serious, and that unless there was no possible chance of Berry's recovery, it would be better for him to remain at Pontiac. If he should be pardoned and return home to regain his health it would set a bad example.

It will be remembered that Berry slugged a local citizen last winter and made away with a bag of money. The incident occurred early one evening on East State street. Berry was arrested a few hours later and pleaded guilty to the crime. It is thought that the care Berry is receiving at Pontiac is better than could be given him here.

"What is Home?"

A few years ago a London magazine sent out one thousand inquiries on the question: "What is home?" Eight hundred replies were received, out of which the following gems were carefully selected:

Home—a world of strife shut out, a world of love shut in.

Home—a place where the small are great, and the great are small.

Home—the father's kingdom, the mother's world and the children's paradise.

Home—the place where we grumble the most and are loved the best.

Home—the center of affection around which our hearts' best wishes twine.

Home—the place where our stomachs get three meals a day and our hearts get a thousand.

Home—the place on earth where the faults and failings of humanity are hidden under the sweet mantle of charity.

MODERN EQUIPMENT

Walter L. Main Circus Introduces Labor-Saving Devices

By the installation of modern labor-saving devices and the use of new and up-to-date equipment the Walter L. Main Circus this season will break all records, it is expected, in time required to erect and raze its tents. The old-timer who finds pleasure in watching the gangs of men drive the long stakes will rub his eyes in astonishment at the sight of a gasoline engine, fited with a miniature pile-driver, sending the stakes earthward at the speed of one a minute. This same machine pulls them at night saving an hour or more of valuable time.

Gone are the old-fashioned gasoline torches. In their place the Main Circus has introduced its own electric lighting plant that furnishes light not only for the "big top," but all of the side shows and the show grounds as well, yet so compact is it that the entire outfit is loaded on one wagon. The wagon and equipment will be on exhibition each day near the main entrance.

To feed the 400 employees it was found necessary to install this season an entirely new system of cooking, and the old army range has been succeeded by steam cookers and tables. With them it is a simple matter to prepare three meals a day and have them ready on the dot.

By a newly patented arrangement all of the big poles of the two larger tents are raised at one time and big spools unroll the canvass with a saving of much time and labor.

Horses will always be a necessity around a circus, but their work has been lightened by the use of big motor trucks that haul at one time six or more of the big dens and cages to and from the circus grounds. They come in especially useful when the circus arrives late.

As the exhibition date in Jacksonville is on Monday, August 6 the circus will arrive over the C. & A. R. R. from Pontiac Sunday morning, August 5, will unload and locate their city of tents on Independence avenue grounds and will no doubt be visited by many sight seeing autoists during Sunday.

CHICK EVANS AND SWEETSER TO PLAY

Renewal of Golf Bout When Evans Lost to Sweetser at Brookline

CLEVELAND, O., July 26. (By A. P.)— Chick Evans of Chicago, defending champion, will meet Jess Sweetser of New York, national champion and Hamilton Gardner of Buffalo will play Joe Wells of East Liverpool, Ohio, formerly West Virginia and Ohio champion tomorrow in the semi-finals of the Western Golf championship at Mayfield Country club as a result of today's rounds.

It will be a renewal of the recent battle at Brookline between Evans and Sweetser, the Yale student having won his title in that tilt from Evans three and two. Sweetser outplayed Evans during the medal rounds of the present meet but in the match play thus far the Chicagoan has been playing better golf than his youthful opponent.

Sweetser won his way to the semi-finals today by defeating his school mate, Dexter Cummings of Chicago, intercollegiate champion, four and three after Cummings had tried with a brilliant three on the third nine to overcome al ead of five up obtained by the national champion in the first round. Evans met a surprise in his rounds today, having to extend himself to better than par this forenoon to be three up to Fred Lamprecht of Cleveland, but the young player broke toward the setting of the sun and Evans sauntered home with a six and four victory.

Brooklyn 001 010 000—2 7 1
Cincinati 030 041 10x—9 14 1

Ruether and DeBerry; Donohue and Hargrave.

Standard Oil Service

THE Standard Oil Company Indiana is doing much to solve a problem of intense and vital interest to you.

With its mammoth central refineries and its far-reaching distributing system—operating with machine-like precision—it is exerting a direct influence on the labor problems of the farmer.

That the farmer is coming to a realization of the benefits of motorizing his equipment is shown by the fact that one tractor manufacturer reports the sale of 20,000 of his machines during the first three months of 1923 as compared with 8,000 of the same machines sold during the same period in 1922.

This increase in the use of mechanical power in general farm practice means a distinct saving in time, and, eventually, will mean greater crops and greater general prosperity.

While the efficient harnessing of petroleum with farming, and the production of food, is an achievement of signal importance, it is but one instance of how Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service dovetails with every other business.

It dovetails with industry by furnishing specialized lubricants for special machinery.

It promotes health by taking from petroleum those ingredients which are used medicinally. It makes it possible for the doctor to cover a much greater territory in pursuing his practice.

It dovetails with the railroads through lubricating much of their intricate equipment, and makes night travel safe by reason of a dependable signal system.

It meets the housewife by furnishing her a wax which safeguards her preserves, jellies, and condiments against spoilage.

It reaches directly, or indirectly, every man in the Middle West at some point which is essential to his prosperity or happiness with a service which is occupying the entire time and attention of 27,000 loyal, efficient, hard-working men and women.

Market Report

By The Associated Press

MARKET IS MARKED BY IRREGULARITY

FINANCIAL.

Day's total sales 327,200 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 91.06; net gain .18.

High 1923; 105.38 low 87.64.

Twenty railroads averaged 80.00; net gain .36.

High 1923; 90.63; low 76.85.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Stock prices generally moved within narrow, irregular limits during the greater part of today's session. Quiet strength characterized the early dealings with a number of good gains being recorded in the steel equipmentand demands for higher wages by the hard coal carriers.

Prices sagged in the early afternoon, rallied feebly and then reacted again in the next hour with gains slightly exceeding losses at the close.

The final decline was precipitated by heavy short selling in the Northwestern rails based on the recent unfavorable developments in the wheat market and the application for a receiveship for the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad.

The growth of the Farmer-Labor movement in the Northwest as reflected in the recent election of Magnus Johnson as senator from Minnesota and the expected demands for higher wages by the big brotherhoods also have had a depressing effect on these shares despite the unusually favorable June earnings statements and the continuation of record car loadings. Northern Pacific and Great Northern Preferred each closed more than 2 points below yesterday's final prices.

Trading in the steel shares was rather quiet pending an official announcement on the United States Steel corporation's plan putting the 8-hour day into effect in its mills.

Declaration of the regular quarterly dividend by Bethlehem set at rest rumors that the dividend was in danger the stock gaining one point on the day.

People's Gas was heavy on reports that the Illinois Commerce Commission had ordered the four large public utility companies in the state to put into effect new rates which will materially lower their gross income. Oils yielded moderately on announcement of another cut in the price of gulf crude coincident with the report of continued record breaking production. The feature of the foreign exchange market was the further collapse of the German mark to .000125 cents or 800,000 to the American dollar on the announcement that German printing presses were now adding more than two trillion daily to the mark note circulation.

United States government bonds held steady.

GRAIN QUOTATIONS AVERAGING LOWER

CHICAGO, July 26 — Assertions that 400,000 bushels of wheat bought for shipment from United States Gulf Ports to Great Britain had been sold back and had been replaced with wheat from Argentina, did a good deal today to make wheat prices here average lower. Despite a sudden upturn at one time, the market closed heavy at 1c to 1½c net decline, with September 97¼ to 97¼ and December 1.00⅛ to 1.00⅝. Corn finished at a range varying from ⅜@½ off to ¼c gain; oats ⅛@¼c down and provisions at 2c lower to 7c advance.

Reselling of wheat purchased for export to Great Britain was said to have been done at a discount of 1c a bushel under the current market price and this fact together with absence of any important export business today had a decided bearish effect. There was gossip, too, that some Canadian wheat which had been taken by exporters was also returned. Rains that led to downturns in the price of corn were likewise indirectly responsible for some of the late weakness in the wheat market. Besides hedging sales were persistent and estimates were circulated that the 1923 wheat crop of North America would total 1,242,000 bushels compared with a forecast of 1,186,000,000 a month ago. Blackrust from Canada and damage by heat and rust were largely effective in bringing about a sudden bulge in whiat prices shortly after the opening.

At this juncture also news became public that the French and German blockade in the occupied areas of Germany had been lifted.

On the other hand predictions of cooler weather in Canada contributed to the subsequent downward slide of values.

Rains in Iowa and a forecast of showers elsewhere eased the corn market.

Oats followed corn.

Provisions developed some firmness owing to buying on the part of yesterday's chief sellers.

FAIR BOARD MAY LET AMUSEMENT CONTRACT

May Sign up For Princess Olga Shows Today—Exhibitors Urged to Make Entries Early — Many Free Attractions Booked.

The contract for a portion of the amusements at the Morgan county fair will probably be let today by the board of directors of the Fair Association. The manager of the Princess Olga shows is expected in the city to close the contract for these attractions. The shows carry three rides, a whip, a three-abreast merry-go-round, and a new ferris wheel. There is also a midget show and athletic show, and a number of circus side shows in the group.

The free acts to be on th grounds this year will cost $1700. They will consist of a sailor perch act, in which an acrobat does some thriller swings from a high pole; Ardell's dog and monkey show, and a special night attraction, Louis Lew's Musical Revue, with a cast of twenty people. This show is a regular musical comedy and will present a change of program each night. A stage with special lighting effects will be constructed opposite the grand stand especially for this feature.

The entry books for the fair are now open, and exhibitors are urged to make their entries early. The books will close on the evening of August 25, and the big rush of entries is expected in the last ten days.

The fair board is now in position to receive bids for the renting of tents for the coming fair. Morgan county is considered one of the best tent customers in this section and the rental price this year will be nearly $2,000. Two large tent companies in Springfield and two in Peoria are figuring on the job.

The committee having charge of the advertising of the fair will begin next week to herald the event thruout the surrounding country. Posters and newspaper ads will be scattered far and wide. The board has let the contract for 500 auto banners to the Coulson Mfg. Company of Paris, Illinois, and these will be distrubuted to auto owners to be placed on the backs of their cars.

The work of mailing out the catalogues is now almost completed. Over 2,000 have already been distributed. The board is now ready to receive bids for concessions on the grounds during fair week. A season tickets will admit the holder to the grounds at any time and give him privilege of seeing all free attractions. This year an admission charge will be made at night as the musical comedy will be the chief attraction, together with the dog and monkey show and the sailor perch act.

BELONG TO MEN AND MULES

Only Known Animals That, Willingly and Unwillingly, Are Known to Wear Collars.

Collars are tubular articles of apparel worn about the neck of men and mules. The reason that the last named animal wears them is obvious. A collar consists of several square inches of linen made into a strangling noose and starched to add to its potency. Some are uprights, others grands and still others simply instruments.

They are of varying heights, according to the hardihood of the wearer, observes a writer for the New York Sun. Some men are so hardboiled that they wear collars with protruding points in front and play a game with them. The object of the game is to prevent the points from working through the under jaw and destroying molars. Fortunately the collar does not often win and the stretching exercises incidental to the play are beneficial.

Many good farmhands have been ruined because of a burning ambition to wear a collar perennially. The problem of the exodus to the cities might be solved by a public exposure of the implement. For some reason office slavery is called white-collar work and those who do not carry the hod are said to be white-collar workers, but this is only a flowery figure of speech, the collar that will stay white on the job not having been made.

In families the men of which have worn collars for generations that unlovely protuberance known as Adam's apple is virtually nonexistent. Among those who have but recently joined the collar corps the old perambulating pippin puts up a hard fight, but is finally pushed back, to the evident discomfort of the windpipe. It is fortunate that only the air passage suffers and never the one through which food must travel.

QUEER KINDS OF MEDICINE

Cobweb Pills Supposed Good for Ague, and Snake's Head Broth for Various Diseases.

The heads of venomous serpents have held an important place in medicine. A strong broth made from them and mixed with salt and spices, and one hundred other remedies, was employed under the name of theriac as a cure for every conceivable disease.

Curious survivals of this old belief in the efficacy of certain reptiles and insects as cures for human ills occasionally come to light, even in this advanced age. In New England, cobweb pills are supposed to be good for the ague, and in the South a certain knuckle bone in a pig's foot is a cure for rheumatism, if it be carried in the pocket or worn suspended from a string around the neck.

The spider-web pill originated in China, where all species of insects have certain positive or negative values in medicine.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Voices of the Ice.

The winter of the Far North is not wholly silent, although so little life is manifest at that season. The testimony offered by an American explorer makes this fact very clear.

All movements of the ice—the gradual crowding and pressing, bending and pushing, the breaking of masses of snow lying at the "ice foot"—do not proceed noiselessly, but are generally accompanied by certain sounds which are called the "voices of the ice."

Now one hears a low, singing, splashing or grumbling, alternating with various other noises, cracking and snapping; now it sounds irregularly from a great distance, like a confusion of human voices, the clanging din of a train or a sledging party; or you fancy you can hear the steps and voices of all sorts of animals.

There is, it is said, a charm in listening to these sounds on a still night.—Washington Star.

Egyptian Idea of Beauty.

The Egyptians made the most exhaustive researches into the care and preservation of the skin. Their success in arresting the decomposition of the tissues as evidenced by the mummies of their pre-Christian era kings defies modern science. Just as the secret of mixing paints of the old Italian painters has never been duplicated by present-day artists and their mastery of color remains supreme, so the embalming processes of old Egyptians died with them.

The ancient Egyptians painted their eyes with a long green line and believed very strongly in applying to the eyes mesd'empt, which was considered to have the soothing and healing properties of kohl, which is still used by eastern peoples—where, incidentally, ophthalmia is very prevalent.

Remembered His Orders.

Heffy, as the boys affectionately called him, was an editor who was always anxious to give credit where credit was due. He urged every man who did any clipping to give full credit to the author and the publication as well.

He would often say: "Never forget to give 'credit' for the article, my boy."

And so he could not help feeling gratified one morning to see that a new exchange man had reprinted a beautiful sonnet.

The credit line read: "William Shakespeare in the Plunkeville Gazette."

Odd Disposition of Dead.

Natives of the Solomon islands elevate their dead on pedestals. The more respected the departed the more elaborate is his bier. The superstitious natives believe that every person has a ghost that will be as active in worldly affairs as was the corporeal object before death. Sometimes the native dead are cremated. Gifts of food are placed near by. It is "taboo" to pass behind these burial platforms.

OPEN AIR MEETING

You are invited to attend the open air services which will be held on the Baptist chapel lawn tonight at 7:45. The Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist church will attend in a body. Mr. Charles Story is teacher of this class, and believe me, it is an enthusiastic class. The members will meet with Mr. Story of the North side of the square and come from there to the Chapel. The subject of the sermon will be, 'Down and Up.'—Wm. J. Boston.

Noah Hudson came to town from Roodhouse yesterday.

GREAT WHEAT YIELD

A wonderful crop has just been threshed by C. O. Anderson on the Clifton Davis farm east of the city. A 60 acre tract averaged 41 bushels to the acre. Mr. Anderson has good reason to be satisfied with the result, for while the price is low the total return from the land is very much larger than was true last year.
